

DYNACORD® COBRA-4™ LINE ARRAY AT “DAY AT THE BAY” EVENT

Marcia Ball charms the crowd, flanked by the Cobra-4

Somers Point, NJ (June 13th 2004): Grammy award nominee Marcia Ball and blues guitar legend Duke Robillard entertained the crowds at the “Day at the Bay” festival, a celebration of maritime culture held on June 13th, 2004 at Somers Point, New Jersey. Sound reinforcement for the event was provided by Arsenal Sound of Bridgeton, NJ (www.arsenalsound.com). Arsenal owner Al Miller brought in the compact powerhouse Dynacord Cobra-4 line array for the show, which featured a wide range of styles, including classic rock, Dixie blues, and barbershop. EV® T221-Ms were used as stage monitors.

Miller reported: “The Cobra met with unanimous praise. We had numerous fans approach us to comment that this was the best a particular artist had sounded. We ground-stacked four PWH subs per side, on their sides, and topped them off with two Cobra Top and one Cobra Far boxes per side. This was ample for the crowd of around three thousand. I didn’t even need to tweak the settings on the processor – I left them at 12 o’clock in and out. Things sounded great right off the bat. The coverage was great and the clarity was excellent. And, of course, the easy setup made the crew happy. Another outdoor success for the Cobra!”
