Electro-Voice® Hosts Line Array Training and Demonstrations for International Guests in Burnsville, Minnesota

Burnsville, MN (October 30, 2002): Electro-Voice® recently hosted more than 20 international audio professionals for several days of line array seminars, training, and demonstrations.

“The enthusiasm of these clients was outstanding,” remarked Mick Whelan, general manager of concert sound for the Telex Pro Audio Group, “We brought in 22 international sound professionals from Singapore, Japan, England, Italy, Honduras, Venezuela, Canada, and New Zealand and gave them an intimate experience with the full-bandwidth compact line-array (X<sup>LC</sup>), the EV X-Line™, and Klark Teknik’s 4-in-1 EQ solution, the Helix. We’ve learned through these demonstrations and learning sessions that the X<sup>LC</sup> is undeniably what audio professionals from around the world have been waiting for...and boy did they let us know that!”

News Release

Electro-Voice's demonstration of the full-bandwidth compact line-array (X<sup>LC</sup>) and the EV X-Line™ was conducted at the historic Northrop Auditorium on the campus of the University of Minnesota. There, participants were able to listen to the X<sup>LC</sup> and X-Line in a real-world performance space and critically assess its performance through the entire process of set-up, system optimization, and tear down. All were introduced to Electro-Voice's unique line array aiming and prediction software LAPS (available for download at www.electrovoice.com) as well as the X<sup>LC</sup>'s one-man captive rigging.
